Pyramid Rising: Planetary Acupuncture to Combat Climate Change Zach Royer

Hawaii's modern day Indiana Jones, Zach Royer aka "Royer the Explorer" provides very detailed information as to why and how the constructions of pyramids have saved the planet from devastating earth changes in our ancient past and will do so again in the immediate future. After noticing a correlation between pyramids and an uptick in recent earthquakes & natural disasters around the world he proceeds beyond looking at the past and reveals his theory on why pyramids were built and how to possibly mitigate climate change and the devastating effects of extreme weather and promote a more balanced state of harmony with Nature.

The beginning of Pyramid Rising focuses on introducing the reader to pyramids and pyramid energy, the core of the work discusses past scientific experiments that give evidence to support that pyramid energy is real, and the last chapter of Pyramid Rising focuses on building plans for a new planetary acupuncture, including easy to follow instructions on how to build your own pyramid - great or small!

The earth is just like the human body, with energy lines and meridians in many places which can be either a state of harmony or disharmony at the quantum level, both of which the pyramids have the direct ability to impact. Learn of the beneficial effects that "Pyramid Power" has on plants, animals, humans and the environment. Visit the "Global Pyramids Consortium" group on Facebook to connect with Zach and join in the hot discussion!
